

DAYRIXA

Experimental Whitepaper v1 - Testnet Edition - September 2026

1. Project Overview

DAYRIXA is an experimental AI + Web3 prototype focused on a product-first research-assistance ecosystem. The current DAYRIXA AI Hub explores academic-source discovery, evidence synthesis, claim extraction, claim validation and claim classification.

The project is currently a technical prototype. DRXA exists only as a test token on BNB Smart Chain Testnet and has no monetary value.

2. DAYRIXA AI Hub

The public prototype supports English and Persian interfaces. Its Research Agent retrieves scholarly metadata, ranks results for discovery, separates publication metadata from evidence quality, synthesizes retrieved abstract evidence, and builds claim/evidence tables. Outputs must be verified against original sources and full text where appropriate.
